Hello!

I am so excited to help you connect with my college coach friends this weekend! Whether you're just starting your process, or close to committing I hope you remember that softball is something you do, not who you are. Sometimes we get so wrapped up in the process that we start to only indentify as a ball player. Remember that there is so much more to you than how you perform on the field!

If you're struggling with the process, here are some ways I can help beyond helping you play in front of coaches this weekend:

- 1) Listen to our podcast, Future First Softball Second - I even answer listen questions every other weekend!
- 2) Join our 1:1 year round college planning program - I walk with you every step of the way to provide support, prep you to interact with coaches, and find your perfect fit!
- 3) Grab a Meeting or VIP Week - Feel like you just need a plan? I help you create it and you go execute it!

Good luck this weekend, and beyond!

TEST PREP ONLINE

ACCURATE PREP SINCE 1992

Prepare for the SAT with tools from the most experienced team on the market. Build knowledge, skills and confidence with our online SAT prep that closely mimics real SAT questions and answers, developed by our SAT expert Isaac Binshtock. With 2 million students taking the SAT exam in 2025 and only 41% meeting the math benchmark level for American colleges, the importance of accurate high quality practice is clear. That's exactly what we provide.

A huge thank you goes out to the Miss Shen organization for their hospitality this weekend! Please be sure to thank their coaches, field crew, and concession stand staff when you see them!
